Cellar

The grapes for this wine are harvested separately according to variety and origin. The selective harvest of the ripe, healthy grapes is carried out exclusively by hand. In the cellar, the grapes are destemmed and lightly crushed. The natural, alcoholic fermentation and maceration takes place in stainless steel tanks and lasts two to three weeks. During this time, the mash is pumped over two to four times a day (remontage) to extract the valuable ingredients (color, tannin) from the skins. Further maturation and natural malolactic fermentation takes place in large and small oak barrels. After a year of barrel aging, the base wines are blended, clarified/filtered and stored in stainless steel tanks until bottling.

Wine Description

The traditional Burgenland varieties, Blaufränkisch and Zweigelt, feel particularly comfortable on the calcareous clay (Lehm) soils around Großhöflein. This is also where the grapes for this fruity, spicy red wine grow, hence the name “vom Lehm”. This cuvée skilfully combines the spiciness and power of the Blaufränkisch with the charming fruit and juiciness of the Zweigelt. PS: In some years, a small proportion of Cabernet Sauvignon, Syrah and Merlot can provide a little international flair.

Tasting Notes

Deep dark ruby garnet, violet reflections, subtle brightening of the edges. Dark berry fruit, blackberries, some cassis, fine herbal spice, delicate hint of liquorice, a hint of chocolate. Full-bodied and tightly woven with velvety tannins, dark berries and some nougat, long-lasting. Enjoyable to drink and has ageing potential.

Food Pairing

Our Cuvée vom Lehm pairs beautifully with savory meat dishes, braised vegetables or rich vegetarian cuisine. Recipe idea: try a classic Boeuf Bourguignon with red-wine jus reduction – its deep flavors match perfectly with the wine’s cherry and pepper notes.
