

N.V. VERJUS LOVELY TO DRINK ROSÉ

STEININGER

Origin:	Austria, Kamptal
Site:	Vineyards from the village of Langenlois
Varietal	Zweigelt 100 %
Soil	loam alluvial gravel

Vineyard Site:
Various vineyards around Langenlois combine loess, primary rock and limestone. The result is a wine with origin, tension and refined minerality.

Cellar

crafted with care

The early-harvested grapes are carefully picked, gently pressed and meticulously filtered. The result is a fine, clear juice that serves as a versatile source of acidity in the kitchen – fresh, elegant and alcohol-free.

harvest

In early September, we harvest the Grüner Veltliner grapes by hand while they still carry high acidity and low sugar – the ideal foundation for a refreshing Verjus.

Wine Description

Light, vibrant, and full of freshness! A rosy touch with hints of purple-orange; delicate aromas of red currant, rhubarb, a touch of watermelon, pink grapefruit, and sour cherries. Grapey accents, sweet-sour and juicy, playful and piquant, carried by lively carbonation – uncomplicated enjoyment with an inviting character. An alcohol-free aperitif with fine sparkle and elegant lightness.

Food Pairing

Serve well chilled as a refreshing aperitif or an elegant alternative to sparkling wine. Pairs beautifully with light starters, fresh salads, grilled vegetables, or delicate fish dishes. Its lively acidity and freshness make it a versatile companion all year round.

Fresh, sparkling, and alcohol-free – our Zweigelt Rosé Verjus delights with vibrant acidity, fine berry notes, and elegant lightness. The sparkling alternative for any occasion!
